COMMUNITY AIMS

OUR EDITORIAL today might easily be named any one of a number of things—Co-operation, Striking a New Match, Community Fellowship, etc., for we propose to dwell exclusively on incidents pertaining to the activities of the Improvement Clubs in Boulder Creek and Ben Lomond during the week ending October and beginning November.

It has been a long time since a more enjoyable meeting of any kind has been held anywhere in the San Lorenzo Valley than was held under the auspices of the Ben Lomond Improvement Club at the Clubhouse in Ben Lomond last Tuesday evening.

Not the least of the evening's enjoyment was the visit of 25 members of the Boulder Creek Improvement Club who came in response to an invitation of the Ben Lomond Club to attend the meeting.

There were also visitors from Felton and Brookdale whose presence, together with the goodly number of Ben Lomond members present made the attendance well over a hundred when A. H. Townsend, the newly elected president, called the meeting to order.

The business session was hurried through and at its close the president read the following declaration of aims for the reorganized club, which were adopted.

We, the members of the Ben Lomond Improvement Club declare our purpose to accept all the duties of American citizenship.

We have formed this association to secure all the benefits of community life and affirm the right of our community to each one's best effort.

We support all individual rights just so far as their use does not harm our fellows.

We agree that the public good is superior to any private gain obtained at the expense of community welfare.

We recognize and acknowledge the gracious influence of practical Christianity in community life.

We ask that our homes be guarded by right social conditions throughout the community.

We declare the duty of the community to promote good schools, means for community recreation, safe sanitary conditions, improved highways, and encouragement to thrift and home ownership.

We propose to make the appropriateness and attractiveness of our homes, our stores, our streets, our hostelries, assets of distinct value to the peculiar interests of our community.

We agree to do our share in the creation of public sentiment in support of all measures in public interest.

We agree to put aside all partisan and sectarian relations when dealing with community matters.

We state our conviction that the best rewards from this organized effort lie before each one in a deepened interest in others and an increased ability to co-operate the one with the other for the good of all.

A most interesting feature of the foregoing declaration of aims is the fact that on Monday evening at its regular meeting, the Boulder Creek Improvement Club unanimously adopted them as its aims, which with the hearty approval of the Ben Lomond Club gives good and sufficient reason for our caption "Community Aims." For we are indeed a community—one community—the San Lorenzo Valley Community.

The evening at Ben Lomond was the real thing in community meetings—so much so that there is every reason to believe that many more such meetings will be held during the coming months with every prospect of growing interest in the pleasure of meeting friends and neighbors and community development.

Prof. Elisha Brooks voiced the national interest of those at the meeting by introducing the following resolution to be forwarded to Secretary of State Hughes at Washington, which was unanimously adopted.

This large and representative public meeting at Ben Lomond, California, November 1, 1921, of the San Lorenzo Valley people from Boulder Creek to Felton, deeply impressed with a sense of the responsibility of this nation to take a leading part in the promotion of International disarmament, earnestly appeals to the Nation's representatives at the coming disarmament conference, to use their very utmost endeavor that if the conference should close without achieving the desired purpose, no blame whatever shall legitimately rest upon this Nation for such failure.

Following the adjournment of the business session an hour was given over to the enjoyment of a splendid musical and literary program in which those taking part were:— Miss Mary Walker, piano solo; Mrs Atkinson, recitations; Mrs. Knowles, vocal selections; Miss Carrie Kenville, piano solo; Mr. Coulter, humorous selections; Mrs. Basom, vocal and instrumental selections; Mr. Brooks, recitation.

Nothing, it is said, mellows the heart like good things to eat and the ladies of Ben Lomond are skilled in the art of tempting appetites as the refreshments provided for the occasion readily attested.

The night was still young when refreshments were over and some time was spent listening to talks about possibilities of the community and other matters of interest by visitors—Mr. Gibbs and the Rev. Leake, from Boulder Creek; Mr. Golding, from Felton; Mr. Nicholson, from Ben Lomond. Mr. Brooks suggested that Mr. E. M. Moore, a noted singer from San Francisco, sing a solo but he had no music with him so he gave a reminiscent talk of his early life in Ben Lomond.

"Striking a new match" was a story told by the Rev. Leake of a man who, when his wife died, had inscribed on her tombstone "My light has gone out" and when a year or so later he found a new spark, he was worried about the epitaph. The minister, however, relieved the trying dilemma by advising that he have a new inscription chiseled under the old one to read "But I've struck another match." And he could no doubt have added, "The light is just as bright."

That is an idea for the San Lorenzo Valley to think about. The past is dead, and while it may be that "Our light of the past has gone out" the time has arrived to "Strike a new match" and to judge from the good fellowship prevailing at the present time we can even now see the flicker of a new match that has been struck or is about to strike of its own accord.

ELKS SPEND SUNDAY AT THEIR NEW PARK

What is going to happen at the Elks Park, recently purchased, is something to make us sit up and take notice. W E. Haynes arrived at the New Alpine Hotel Saturday to make arrangements for a large company to arrive the next day (Sunday) which included forty Boy Scouts from San Jose, which the Elks are fathering, to spend the day at the new park at the Peninsula.

It was the writer's privilege to spend some time with the visitors at the park —which by the way is nameless as yet and a prize is offered to the Elk who will suggest a suitable name for it— and it was a delight to see the real enjoyment of the lads who entered into the spirit of the outing with a vim.

The grounds are nicely situated and through the courtesy of Mr. Haines a fine rustic entrance has been completed and is now all ready for a name — when one has been suggested to meet the purpose of the park appropriately.

The boys and visitors were having a glorious time in the park, and the rough plans for work soon to be done include a modern club house to be erected facing Bear Creek, where it is proposed to dam tne creek, for the accommodation of the guests and visitors, and the members of the orgrnization.

A string band of thirty pieces is already being trained for giving entertainments and we are told that in May next year the Elks expect to entertain 1000 visitors in one day. The committee having the park work in charge has invited their members —including those who have had a kick to make about the location of the park, its distance from San Jose, etc., to come over and see these splendid grounds and the facilities at hand for a model playground only 28 miles from the home lodge rooms.

Surely the people of Boulder Creek will be glad to welcome the Elks to our community. This organization is doing a splendid work— a noble work for orphans and especially the Boy Scouts and it is hoped there will be many enjoyable days like last Sunday, for those who are most of the time confined to the building walls and narrow streets of the city. There is room enough in and around Boulder Creek for a number such playgrounds as the one the Elks are developing and there is no telling who will be the next to make the start

Community Mention.

Idlewild Rebekah Lodge gave a Hallowe'en party at the Lodge room on Monday evening Oct. 31st. The hall was artistically decorated with magificent long streamers of grape vines still adorned with the natural fruit. Large masses of Autumn foliage added color and beauty to the room.

Piano Duet:- Misses June and Betty Williams.
Vocal Solo:- Miss. Gladys Peery.
Steel Guitar Solo:- Mr. Scott.
Reading:- Miss. Neuman.

Mrs. Horstman's fortune telling booth was a popular resort likewise the banquet room where a delicious luucheon was served. Dancing, games and social chat filled in the hours otherwise unfilled this rounding out a delightful evening.

Last Friday evenig the students of the B.C.H.S. gave a Hallowe'en Masquerade at the High School. Quite a few of the town people were present.

Many characters were represented such as the pirate, gypsy, autumn, miniature lady Evangelne, the hobo, farmer, hold up man, the coon, ghost, sailors, Lord Fauntleroy, and many people in Yama Yama suits.

A grand march took place about 9:30 o'clock, from which the Judges selected the 5 best characters who were the pirate, Milton Purrinton, autumn, Shirley Cress miniture lady, Betty Williams, the hold man, Roland Hill, and a Yama Yama girl Bernice Swartout. The jubges were Mrs. Townsend, Mrs. Newlin and Mrs. Livermore selected the pirate as the best portayed character.

Regular meeting of the Boulder Creek Improvement Club was called to order with Chairman Gordon in the chair.

Owing to an entertainment by the Rebeccas, which many desired to attend, the meeting was cut a little short. There were a good number present. Reports were favorable, showing that the Club is alive and working quietly yet persistently. Members are coming in by leaps and bounds, but there is still room for more. The Club is greedy for members and all are welcome to come into the fold. As long as you live in the town your place is in the club.

Plans were made for a large crowd to go to Ben Lomond Tuesday night and show the Club there that we are with them to the limit either for work or play. Two busses took the crowd from Boulder Creek.

Wellfare committee has planned for a rousing good time at Whist Party and rfreshments to be given in Forester's Hall. Nov. 14. If we all back these good times with our genial presence Boulder ought to have plenty of social life this winter.

Commissioner Olney Visits the High School

—oOo—

Mr. A. C. Olney, Commissioner of Secondary Education, made a call at the High School Wednesday afternoon. He expressed himself as well pleased with the work of the School and in a talk with the faculty stated that what he considered was the most fundamental factor in education for both boys and girls was citizenship and character training. This should be a conscious thought in the minds of teachers in all subjects. He further stated that the home-making subjects were the most potent contributors to this end and it was his belief that the work in design—woodworking, cooking, sewing, etc., properly corelated and consciously aiming at this objective would do much,

A model cottage, artistically adapted to the surroundings and furnished and arranged with taste and skill by students under competent direction would accomplish wonders in the lives of boys and girls. Our present accomplishments and future plans in this respect impressed him greatly and with large satisfaction.
